PROGRAM EXPLANATIONS

Continuation Schools: Schools that serve students who have committed serious discipline infractions, including mandatory expellable offenses, as defined by NRS 392.466 and CCSD Regulation 5141.1. Students are typically assigned to one of our three continuation campuses for no less than one academic semester up to one calendar year. There are separate campuses for middle school and high school.

Behavior Schools: Schools that serve students who have committed less serious infractions and/or students who have exhibited a pattern of discipline infractions within the last school year. Students are typically assigned to one of our behavior schools for a period of four to nine weeks. Combined campuses serving both middle and high school students.

Choice Schools: Schools that serve students who prefer or require a non-traditional academic setting. Choice schools operate both a horizon (day) and sunset (evening) schedule, and allow concurrent enrollment allowing credit deficient students to take classes in both sessions to make up missing credits. Students choose to attend our choice schools based on needs and location.
