

Digest for Adopted Regulation R_062-11

Existing law requires the Board of Medical Examiners to license, regulate and discipline physicians, physician assistants, practitioners of respiratory care and perfusionists. (NRS 630.130, 630.269, 630.275, 630.279)

Existing regulation requires the Board to deliver by first-class mail a copy of the disciplinary findings and order of the Board to the person affected by the findings and order, to each hospital in the area in which the physician or physician assistant practices and to members of the media. (NAC 630.270) This regulation includes practitioners of respiratory care and perfusionists in the list of affected persons for whom the findings and orders must be disseminated. This regulation also provides that the Board may deliver a copy of its disciplinary findings and orders to hospitals and members of the media by electronic mail.
