RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE ASSEMBLY CONCURRING, That the members of the Nevada Legislature hereby commend Dr. Claude Perkins for his dedicated service and many accomplishments as a school administrator for the Clark County School District from 1978 to 1981, and encourage the Clark County School Board to publicly recognize and honor Dr. Perkins by naming a school after him; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Dr. Claude Perkins, former Superintendent of Schools in Clark County, and the Chairman and each member of the Clark County School District Board of School Trustees.

Senator Horsford moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Senator Horsford.

Senator Horsford requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Madam President. Today is a special day in the Nevada Legislature. I appreciate my colleagues taking a few moments out of our hectic schedule to recognize and commend one of Nevada's outstanding educators and administrators, Dr. Claude Perkins.

Dr. Perkins was born in Mississippi. He started his early education career in Las Vegas in 1971 serving as the assistant to the Superintendent of Schools, our current Governor Kenny Guinn. His job was to oversee desegregation programs in Clark County. Some of the other responsibilities Dr. Perkins held included recruiting teachers to Las Vegas, a challenge still being faced by the fifth largest school district in the country. I am told by friends of Dr. Perkins that while traveling the Country recruiting for teachers, particularly in the East, he was not ready for cold weather. He came to Pittsburgh in the early 1970s wearing Alligator shoes, silk socks and a light raincoat. Needless to say, he nearly froze to death.

Today is a special honor for me since the person we are commending became the superintendent of the Clark County School District the same year I entered kindergarten in the Clark County School District in 1978. I thought that Dr. Perkins would appreciate knowing this little fact. Dr. Perkins also served as the Director of Commerce for former Governor Bob List.

As the resolution indicated, during Dr. Perkins' tenure as superintendent, several accomplishments were achieved. There was an increase in attendance in the Clark County schools. He imposed stricter dress-code standards, reduced class size before it was mandated legislatively, made significant gains in the performance of students on standardized tests, increased the percentage of women hired as administrators and expanded vocational programs, something I thank this body for supporting earlier in the session to build on the successful foundation set by Dr. Perkins.

While Dr. Perkins' long educational career and impressive achievements on behalf of young people within the Clark County School District is self-evident, the District has not yet honored requests to name a school after this great Nevadan and educator. Governor Guinn and community leaders have publicly asked that Dr. Perkins be bestowed the honor of having a school named after him, not simply to recognize him and his family but to educate young people who attend these schools about the great achievements Dr. Perkins has made so that they have access to a quality public education that is integrated and fair.

Resolution adopted.

Senator Horsford moved that all rules be suspended and that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 32 be immediately transmitted to the Assembly.

Motion carried unanimously.

WHEREAS, For the courage and strength he exhibited while he battled cancer, Jake Waters was selected by Washoe Medical Center as the Children's Miracle Network Champion Child for Nevada; and

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Jake Waters of Reno, Nevada.

Senator Raggio moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Senators Raggio and Nolan.

Senator Raggio requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

SENATOR RAGGIO:

Thank you, Madam President. Today, we honor a very special young person. We all have our own challenges, but this young man at the age of four-years-old faced a special challenge as did his family. He was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia. This is a dreaded diagnosis, and his family and other families like Jake's are required to cope, to do what is necessary and to hope and pray.

Jake is one of many who suffer from this disease. He is an example of someone who faced with this disease, undertook it with bravery, courage. He has proven survival is possible despite the odds.

Jake is a busy five-year-old. He swims, goes tubing; he shoots hoops and makes his family and all of his friends proud. We honor many people for many things, but when considering the odds, his age, and the devotion of his family, I stand in admiration of them. After his diagnosis, he received chemotherapy but had severe complications as a reaction to the treatments. His future did not look too bright. However, Jake Waters overcame the odds though it was a struggle. Washoe Medical Center chose him as the Children's Miracle Network Champion Child of Nevada. He represents all of the children faced with this challenge. He has a special place, here, today. Jake was recognized along with other remarkable children from other states. They were honored for their courage, for their perseverance, for doing what was necessary to regain their health at the time other children were out playing and enjoying their childhood. He received a trip to Washington, D.C., and one to Orlando, FL, going to Disney World.

Today, Jake is an active young man. His achievement was so great, I felt it was important to recognize him and his family, Washoe Medical Center, the nurses and those who have contributed to make Jake well again. Let us recognize Jake today as the Children's Miracle Network Champion Child of Nevada.

SENATOR NOLAN:

Thank you, Madam President. I, too, rise in support of the resolution. Jake and I have been sitting at my desk sharing my Delta Force Attack Base, which I do not get to use unless the Majority Leader is making a long floor statement. It is nice to get it out, dust it off and share it with Jake.

Cancer is an insidious disease for adults, but when it strikes children, it is especially difficult to cope with. In talking with Jake's parents, they told me Jake was a great trooper throughout the treatment for this disease. Sometimes children do not realize how sick they are. Jake is an icon for how successful his care was at the Washoe Medical Center. Unfortunately, some children are not as lucky as Jake to beat this disease. In southern Nevada, we have been following the story of Amelia Smith, John L. Smith's daughter. She is nine-years-old. He is a columnist who frequently writes about her bout with cancer. Unfortunately, her form of cancer cannot be treated in Nevada, and she must travel to Phoenix, AZ. Jake spent some time in Oakland for his treatment.

This resolution should be a recommitment for us to do whatever we can to bring the resources to Nevada to build the medical facilities, attract the physicians and to build the treatment modality for treating people like Jake and others.

Resolution adopted.

Senator Raggio moved that all rules be suspended and that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 33 be immediately transmitted to the Assembly.

WHEREAS, Automobiles have encouraged the development of a far-reaching system of highways and roads which made possible the growth of suburbs and shopping centers around major cities; and

WHEREAS, Many people all over the nation, including a large number in Nevada, maintain their classic automobiles as a pastime and do so with a great passion; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature recognize the effect the automobile has had on this State and our country, and support wholeheartedly all activities involved in the restoration and exhibition of these fine automobiles; and

Senator Raggio moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Senators Raggio and Amodei.

Senator Raggio requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

SENATOR RAGGIO:

Today is a day we have every session recognizing vintage cars. America has always been fascinated with automobiles. Today, I had planned to drive my 1957 Thunderbird here, but with the weather we are having, I just could not bring my freshly-polished car out into the rain. I know our former Sergeant-at-Arms, Charlie Welsh, is sad he is missing today because he is an ardent old-car aficionado. He has two Thunderbirds of his own. When he worked here, he really looked forward to this day. We honor the cars today in support of all the vintage car owners and for Charlie Welsh.

If you have the time, there are 16 vehicles on the Legislature grounds on display. It is great to see all the work and know how much love has been put into preserving these old cars. Those of you who have been to the Harrah's Auto Collection know it takes a lot of spit and polish and dedication to keep these cars up.

SENATOR AMODEI:

Thank you, Madam President. I, too, must apologize for not bringing my truck to display. Because it is more rugged than a Thunderbird, the rain was not the problem. I talked to my truck, as I often do during session; I told it I was going to bring it here and park it next to a lot of Fords. It told me it did not want to go because it was manufactured by GMC, the truck people. However, I am in the market for a Mustang so I can be welcomed into the club. Then, I can park with the other cars and not have to talk to my truck and have it talk back to me angrily.

Resolution adopted.
