OF NEVADA

EIGHTIETH SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 4, 2019

Senate called to order at 12:37 p.m.

President Marshall presiding.

Remarks by President Marshall.

Good afternoon, everyone. I am proud to welcome you all to the 80th Session of the Nevada State Legislature. I would like to congratulate our newest Senators and thank each and every one of you for your dedication and service to our great State. I am proud to acknowledge the historical precedence of this year's Session with Nevada becoming the first State in the Union to have a female majority Legislature, a female majority in our Supreme Court and equal representation amongst our Constitutional Officers.

With this moment in our State's history, every young person across Nevada, regardless of race, education, socioeconomic status and whether urban, rural or suburban, can look to us and see themselves and think "I can be a Legislator; I can be here, and I can be a leader." I hope we can all agree to respect the duties and responsibilities we have been granted and share a mutual appreciation for our colleagues. Let us recognize the process we have in place which allows us to disagree, to debate, to discuss and still appreciate we represent Nevada.

I would also like to recognize our guests here, today. There are many faces I know. We could not do the work we do without the continued support of our friends and family. Thank you for all you do. It is a true honor to be serving with all of you, and may we use this Legislative Session to show the Nation why we are proud to say Home Means Nevada.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Mr. Richard Snyder.

Creator God, we thank You for this new day and for the new opportunities it brings. We ask Your blessing on the Senators as they convene for the 80th Session of the Nevada Legislature. Bless, preserve and guide them this day and always. We ask for Your blessing on all of those who work for this Chamber. Help us all to work always in accordance with Your will on behalf of the people of Nevada.

AMEN.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Remarks by Senator Atkinson.

It is with great pride, pleasure, gratitude and deep sense of obligation I rise to address the Senate in the 80th Session of the Nevada State Legislature. I am proud to be part of a true historic display of diversity in this Legislature. A majority of our Legislature is comprised of women.

Indeed, this is unprecedented and long overdue. We are happy to say we are the first in the Country.

We truly have a representative group of elected officials in our State Capital from every walk of life, a multitude of races, diverse religious beliefs, life experiences, economic status, ideologies and all from many geographic regions. The framers of our Constitution envisioned a citizen-based Legislature, and 154 years later, we truly and finally have one here in Nevada. Many would view this as a challenge, a ripe situation for conflict and division. If we allow it, it very well could be.

I, however, choose to see this as a great opportunity to learn, deliberate and legislate with a deeper purpose of our Constitution and understanding of each other and the needs of the diverse populations we represent. I see this as an opportunity to show our State, despite our many differences, we can be civil and unite on Nevada's most pressing needs and, yes, build many new friendships.

It gives me great pride to claim the Minority Leader as my friend. A gay, urban black man and a rancher from rural Nevada could not be any more different. We have forged a life-long bond and our friendship prevails. We have not always agreed, and we have very different ideas; yet, we have worked together many times in the spirit of making all of Nevada better.

My pledge to you all is to be part of a respectful and deliberative process where every opinion is heard and new ideas are welcome. I applaud the Governor for laying out a very inspiring agenda, much of which I will work with him and the Speaker to accomplish. My deepest wish is we, Republicans and Democrats, will build consensus to improve our K-16 schools, ensure school safety and give our children every opportunity to share in the Nevada dream.

More difficult, but doable, is to support efforts in order to provide accessible and affordable healthcare for all of our citizens. These are just some of the issues we have all talked about and have prioritized in the past.

There is one other issue very important to me: the Governor addressed affordable housing, and several great nonprofit groups are working hard to solve our growing homeless population here in our State. I am grateful for this. My heart breaks knowing, at any given time, in southern Nevada, alone, there are approximately 15,000 homeless youth. Nearly 40 percent of those are LGBTQ children, many rejected by their families for whom they are. I ask all of you to work with me in launching a concerted effort to save these children, many with little to no food, insufficient healthcare and who, more often than not, turn to drugs or, even worse, suicide. We cannot view ourselves as a developed society while these children suffer daily this plight. Please help.

I know in order to accomplish our goals, this calls for civility and respect for our Legislative and political process, although met with cynicism and skepticism. This is for good reason, as we know. We have heard these same commitments from Washington D.C. to Carson City for years, and yet, we continue to suffer deep divisions, hostile tones and constant verbal crossfire. I ask that we consider our roles not only as politicians or Legislators but also as parents, as role models and as community leaders. Consider the progress we will make as a State. We, as the most diverse Legislature in the County, who can behave with dignity, respect, tolerance and get this job done.

Yes, improving our schools, our infrastructure and healthcare are vital State needs. The most important accomplishment we should strive for is to act as a citizen-based Legislature, the way the citizens we represent act towards us and each other.

I promise to do my best to listen, respect and love all of you.

God bless each and every one of my colleagues. God bless the Governor. God bless the great State of Nevada. Thank you.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

↳ Not more than four members of the Committee may be members of the same political party.

2. The Majority Leader shall appoint the Chair and Vice Chair of the Committee. The Vice Chair shall serve as the acting Chair if the Chair is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question.

3. The Majority Leader shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (a) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. 4. A member of the Committee is disqualified to serve during the consideration of a specific question if:

(a) The member is the requester of advice concerning the question of ethics or conflict of interest, or the member is the subject of the complaint concerning the specific question; or

(b) A reasonable person in the member's situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

5. The members of the Committee shall perform any duty required in the period between the time of their appointment after the general election and the organization of the next succeeding regular session, or until the Majority Leader or the Minority Leader appoint new members to the Committee, whichever occurs first.

6. The tenure of the members of the Committee shall extend during the interim between regular sessions of the Legislature.

7. The Committee:

(a) May hear requests brought by Senators for advice on specific questions of potential breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest; and

(b) Shall hear complaints brought by Senators and others on specific questions of alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest, including, without limitation, alleged breaches of the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules.

8. All proceedings held by the Committee to consider the character, alleged misconduct, professional competence or physical or mental health of any person on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest and all materials related to those proceedings are confidential, unless the person who is the subject of the proceedings requests a public hearing or discloses the content of the proceedings or materials.

9. *An individual may file a complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest, including, without limitation, an alleged breach of the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules. (a) Made in writing on a form provided by the Legislative Counsel;

(b) Signed and verified under penalty of perjury by the individual making the allegation; and

(c) Filed with the Legislative Counsel who shall review the complaint and any other relevant information and consult with the Chair of the Committee or, if the Chair is the subject of the complaint, with the Vice Chair, to evaluate whether the Committee has jurisdiction and whether an investigation is warranted in the matter. If it is determined that the Committee:

(1) Does not have jurisdiction or that an investigation is not warranted in the matter, the Legislative Counsel shall send written notice of the determination to the individual who filed the complaint.

(2) Has jurisdiction and an investigation is warranted in the matter, the Legislative Counsel shall send written notice of the determination and a copy of the complaint to the person who is the subject of the complaint.

10. Each Legislator is subject, at all times, to the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules and, in addition, must determine whether he or she has a conflict of interest upon any matter in question before the Legislator. In determining whether the Legislator has such a conflict of interest, the Legislator should consider whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his or her situation upon the matter in question would be materially affected by the Legislator's:

(a) Acceptance of a gift or loan;

(b) Private economic interest; or

(c) Commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family.

↳ In interpreting and applying the provisions of this subsection, it must be presumed that the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in the Legislator's situation would not be materially affected by the Legislator's private economic interest or the Legislator's commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family where the resulting benefit or detriment accruing to the Legislator, or if the Legislator has a commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family, accruing to those other persons, is not greater than that accruing to any other member of the general business, profession, occupation or group that is affected by the matter.

11. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 12, if a Legislator knows he or she has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator shall make a disclosure of the conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Senate, as applicable. Such a disclosure must be entered:

(a) If the Legislator makes the disclosure in a meeting of a committee, in the minutes for that meeting.

(b) If the Legislator makes the disclosure on the floor of the Senate, in the Journal.

12. If, on one or more prior occasions during the current session of the Legislature, a Legislator has made a general disclosure of a conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Senate, the Legislator is not required to make that general disclosure at length again regarding the same conflict of interest if, when the matter in question arises on subsequent occasions, the Legislator makes a reference on the record to the previous disclosure.

13. In determining whether to abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which a Legislator has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator should consider whether:

- (a) The conflict impedes his or her independence of judgment; and
- (b) His or her interest is greater than the interests of an entire class of persons similarly situated.

14. The provisions of this Rule do not under any circumstances and regardless of any conflict of interest:

- (a) Prohibit a Legislator from requesting or introducing a legislative measure; or
- (b) Require a Legislator to take any particular action before or while requesting or introducing a legislative measure.

15. If a Legislator who is a member of a committee declares on the record when a vote is to be taken by the committee that he or she will abstain from voting because of the requirements of this Rule, the necessary quorum to act upon and the number of votes necessary to act upon the matter is reduced as though the Legislator abstaining were not a member of the committee.

16. The standards and procedures set forth in this Rule which govern whether and to what extent a Senator has a conflict of interest, should disclose a conflict of interest or should abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which the Senator has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10:

- (a) Are exclusive and are the only standards and procedures that apply to Senators with regard to such matters; and
- (b) Supersede and preempt all other standards and procedures with regard to such matters, except that this subsection does not exempt any Senators from the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules.

17. For purposes of this Rule, "immediate family" means a person who is related to the Legislator by blood, adoption or marriage within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity.

18. This Rule shall remain in full force and effect throughout the interim between regular sessions of the Legislature and until new Standing Rules of the Senate are adopted as part of a newly-constituted Senate at the commencement of a session.

The next rule is 30.

IV. QUORUM, VOTING, ELECTIONS

Every Senator within the bar of the Senate shall vote "yea" or "nay" or record himself or herself as "not voting," unless excused by unanimous vote of the Senate. A Senator who records himself or herself as "not voting" must make a full and complete disclosure of a conflict of interest pursuant to Senate Standing Rule No. 23.

2. The votes and names of those absent or recorded as "not voting" and the names of Senators demanding the recorded vote must be entered in the Journal.

Rule No. 31. President to Decide—Tie Vote.

A question is lost by a tie vote, but when the Senate is equally divided on any question except the passage of a bill or joint resolution, the President may give the deciding vote.

Rule No. 32. Manner of Election—Voting.

1. In all cases of election by the Senate, the vote must be taken viva voce. In other cases, if a vote is to be recorded, it may be taken by oral roll-call or by electronic recording.

2. When a recorded vote is taken, no Senator may:

- (a) Vote except when at his or her seat;
- (b) Explain his or her vote or discuss the question while the voting is in progress; or
- (c) Change his or her vote after the result is announced.

3. The announcement of the result of any vote must not be postponed.

The next rule is 40.

The Majority Leader shall designate the Chair and Vice Chair of all standing and select committees.

2. The Majority Leader shall refer prefiled bills and resolutions to committee, subject to ratification by a majority vote of the Senate once the Senate is organized and ready for business.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, the standing and select committees of the Senate and their respective jurisdiction for the reference of bills and resolutions are as follows:

(a) Commerce and Labor, eight members, with jurisdiction over measures affecting primarily titles 52-56 of NRS, and chapters 97-100, 118-119, 119B, 461, 461A, 489, 679A-693A, 694A-697, 711 and 712 of NRS, except measures affecting primarily state and local revenue.

D. CONTESTS OF ELECTIONS

Rule No. 130. Procedure.

1. The Senate shall not dismiss a statement of contest for want of form if any ground of contest is alleged with sufficient certainty to inform the defendant of the charges he or she is required to meet. The following grounds are sufficient, but are not exclusive:

(a) That the election board or any member thereof was guilty of malfeasance.

(b) That a person who has been declared elected to an office was not at the time of election eligible to that office.

(c) That illegal votes were cast and counted for the defendant, which, if taken from the defendant, will reduce the number of legal votes below the number necessary to elect him or her.

(d) That the election board, in conducting the election or in canvassing the returns, made errors sufficient to change the result of the election as to any person who has been declared elected.

(e) That the defendant has given, or offered to give, to any person a bribe for the purpose of procuring his or her election.

(f) That there was a possible malfunction of any voting or counting device.

2. The contest must be submitted so far as may be possible upon depositions or by written or oral arguments as the Senate may order. Any party to a contest may take the deposition of any witness at any time after the statement of contest is filed with the Secretary of State and before the contest is finally decided. At least 5 days' notice must be given to the prospective deponent and to the other party. If oral statements are made at any hearing before the Senate or a committee thereof which purport to establish matters of fact, they must be made under oath. Strict rules of evidence do not apply.

3. The contestant has the burden of proving that any irregularities shown were of such nature as to establish the probability that the result of the election was changed thereby. After consideration of all the evidence, the Senate shall declare the defendant elected unless the Senate finds from the evidence that a person other than the defendant received the greatest number of legal votes, in which case the Senate shall declare that person elected.

The next rule is 140.

IX. LEGISLATIVE INVESTIGATIONS

Rule No. 140. Compensation of Witnesses.

Witnesses summoned to appear before the Senate, or any of its committees, shall be compensated as provided by law for witnesses required to attend in the courts of the State of Nevada.

Remarks by Senator Atkinson.

Rule No. 4 is revised to remove the provision that the Sergeant at Arms is responsible to the Majority Leader so now the Sergeant at Arms is supervised by the Secretary of the Senate consistent with the supervision of other staff.

Rule No. 22 is removed in its entirety. That rule provided for the Senate Parliamentary Rules and Procedures Committee, which was charged with approving or disapproving proposed amendments to legislative measures submitted by a Senator.

Rule No. 113 removes the reference to the Rules and Procedures Committee and further provides that all amendments are made public after submitted to the Secretary of the Senate for processing.

Rule No. 23, which addresses Legislative Ethics, is revised to change the process for filing a complaint that alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest. Instead of a form being provided by the Secretary of the Senate and filed with the Chair of the Committee on Ethics, the form is provided by the Legislative Counsel and then filed with the Legislative Counsel when complete. The Legislative Counsel is then required to review the complaint and consult with the Chair or Vice Chair of the Committee on Ethics, as applicable, to evaluate whether the Committee has jurisdiction and whether an investigation is warranted in the matter. The Legislative Counsel is required to send written notice of the determination to the person who filed the complaint.

Rule No. 30 is revised to require a Senator who records himself or herself as "not voting" to make a full and complete disclosure of a conflict of interest pursuant to Senate Standing Rule No. 23.

Rule No. 40 is revised to update the jurisdiction of the Senate Standing Committees and the membership of certain committees. Jurisdiction is changed as follows: measures relating to energy, providers of new electric resources, transportation network companies and telecommunications are moved from Commerce and Labor to the new Growth and Infrastructure Committee and measures relating to oil pipelines are moved from Government Affairs to the new Growth and Infrastructure Committee; measures relating to medical marijuana are moved from Judiciary to Health and Human Services; measures relating to the taxation and regulation of marijuana are moved from Judiciary to Revenue and Economic Development; the Committee on Transportation is removed, and the measures previously referred to the Transportation Committee will now be referred to the new Growth and Infrastructure Committee. The membership of the Committees on Commerce and Labor, Finance and Judiciary is increased from seven to eight members. The membership of the Committee on Revenue and Economic Development is reduced from seven to five members.

Rule No. 53, which currently authorizes a Committee to meet via video-conference, adds any "other appropriate remote-technology system" as a means for a Committee to meet. Rule No. 53 further provides that the official record of a Committee meeting is the minutes approved by the Chair.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS TO THE NEVADA LEGISLATURE

Legislative Leadership, Madam President, distinguished Members of the Legislature, Honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, Constitutional Officers, Honored Guests, thank you all for joining me here tonight.

To my family, particularly our incredible new First Lady, thank you for standing with me on this journey and for guiding me through this next chapter.

I also want to take a moment to recognize a great Nevadan who passed away recently but left behind a legacy of fighting for the Silver State, former Governor and United States Senator Paul Laxalt.

The start of the year and the start of a new Legislative Session is a moment for reflection, a time to think about the progress we have made. Tonight, I speak to the Legislators who will make up the 80th Session of the Nevada Legislature. And for the first time in Nevada State history, and in the history of the United States of America, it is a Legislature that is majority women. Tonight, we are joined by the newly-elected and -appointed women who took the leap this past year and together made history. Would you all please stand, our Legislative women. Let us give them a round of applause.

This is a milestone that has been generations in the making, thanks to women like Dina Titus, who not only served in this Legislature, but also has gone on to represent us in the halls of Congress. Tonight, we are joined by two of the pioneers who had also helped make it possible: Barbara Buckley, the first woman to serve as Speaker of the Assembly and Sue Wagner, the first woman to serve as Lieutenant Governor of the State of Nevada. Barbara and Sue, would you please stand as well.

To them, to all of the women here tonight and to all of the women who have served before, including the one and only Debbie Smith, who I know is smiling down on us, this night belongs to you. As a dad of two daughters, I am especially grateful to know that every little girl in Nevada has role models in all of you. And let me just say that includes our Lieutenant Governor, Kate Marshall. Kate, I look forward to working with you on behalf of the people of Nevada.

This work is important because for the last decade, our economy and our families have faced some of the hardest economic times. Tonight, we can acknowledge the progress. Nevada's economic recovery reaches every family; making sure our schools prepare every child to reach their potential and ensuring our health care system is there for every Nevadan who needs it.

The time is here to ask what kind of State we want to be. It is on all of us, Democrats and Republicans alike, to reach higher than we ever have and to ensure economic success makes it to every dinner table in Nevada. And so while we have work to do, I stand before you and am proud to announce that the state of our State is full of opportunity.

Let us start with some numbers. We are anticipating General Fund revenue of more than 4.3 billion in 2020, up nearly 3 percent from 2019. In 2021, it is projected to rise even more, to nearly 4.5 billion. Nevada's economic growth happened under our current revenue structure. As they say, "if it ain't broke, don't fix it." That is why this budget is presented without any new taxes. Let me say that once again to be clear: this balanced budget does not contain any new taxes.

While revenue is up today, our history tells us what pain an economic downturn can bring. At the height of the great recession, difficult choices were made, including cuts to education, medical services and job training, at the very moment people needed them most. Then, Speaker Barbara Buckley sponsored legislation to require the Governor to reserve one percent of our total anticipated revenue for the Rainy Day Fund. As she put it at the time: "Creating programs in good times to slash them in bad times is senseless." She is right. This is not only the fiscally responsible thing to do, but also is the right thing to do. Besides, how can we tell our children to save their money for a rainy day if our government does not even do it?

Last year marked the first time since the law passed in 2011 that Nevada lived up to that commitment. Today, I pledge to make this a pattern: my budget will include annual savings of $45 million for the next two years to preserve and grow our Rainy Day Fund for those dark days when we will truly need it.

As we saw in our latest jobs report, businesses are propelling our economy. We now boast of being home to companies like Tesla, Google, Apple and Amazon, just to name a few. We have welcomed Hyperloop One and a burgeoning drone industry. We have become ground zero for the Fourth Industrial Revolution that will come with blockchain technology. Last fall, Tesla, Blockchains, LLC and other high-tech neighbors in Northern Nevada became part of what is now known as Innovation Park, a place to incubate visionary thinkers, developers and others who will design our future. Just last month, several of our Legislators formed a Technology Caucus to review the needs of our growing tech sector and promote the success of these ventures.

We are also working to ensure that we give our students the required skillsets to succeed in these industries, with STEM education being more important than ever before. When it comes to jobs, we are now one of the fastest growing states in the Nation. Over the past year, non-farm employment has increased by more than 45,000 with gains in construction and manufacturing, education and health services, trade and transportation and more. We have our business community to thank, not just large companies whose arrival in our State makes headlines, but small businesses too, including the over 78,000 employers in Nevada with 100 or fewer employees. As Governor, I will work to make it easier for our small businesses to thrive by streamlining complicated processes, eliminating red tape and needless regulations and putting a Small Business Advocate in the Office of the Lieutenant Governor. Let us give our small businesses a hand.

One of those sectors is the rapidly-growing marijuana industry. That is why I am announcing that next week I will sign an Executive Order creating Nevada's first-ever Cannabis Compliance Board, which will ensure this critical part of our State's future economy is positioned to become the gold standard for the Nation. We will manage and grow this new industry strictly and fairly and in a way the State can be proud of.

But with new jobs and economic growth comes an added challenge, making sure everyone who wants to live and work here can afford to do so. To that end, I will be supporting the recommendations to create a new program which will offer $10 million of State tax credits per year for the creation and preservation of affordable housing. I want to thank the Chair and members of the Committee that studied Affordable Housing this past interim for their hard work on this proposal. This alone will not solve our housing crisis, but it is an important first step in the right direction and will make a real difference in the lives of low-income Nevadans who will have a safe and secure place to call home.

At the root of our affordable housing crisis lies another fundamental problem, too many Nevadans are making too little. This needs to change, and it needs to start by giving Nevadans a well-deserved raise. Even as our economy improves, too many folks are still working two jobs just to get by, even more are living paycheck to paycheck. That is why I am committed to working with the Legislature and the business and labor communities to raise the minimum wage in our State. It is impossible for an individual, let alone a family, to live on $7.25 an hour.

And not only that, we need to ensure equal pay for equal work and to find a consensus on paid leave for Nevada's workers. It is the right thing to do for our families. At the same time, I am recommending a 3-percent pay increase for our State employees whose work enables us to provide medical and social services to our people, assist new businesses and keep our roads and highways safe. During the great recession, many of them took pay cuts or went without salary increases, but they continued to faithfully serve the State of Nevada. Their skills, knowledge, experience and devotion have been invaluable to our State. We are in a position to give our workers a raise, and we expect great return on that investment. I also believe they should be empowered to bargain collectively in the years ahead. And to our State agencies, we must open our doors. It is time to let employees know what options they have.

And while on the subject of wages, I want to make one thing clear: this Session I will work to return prevailing wage to public construction projects as it was before the 2015 Session, including, and most importantly, for children's schools. Not only do prevailing wage jobs support highly skilled workers in Nevada, but also guarantees our children are learning in well-constructed, high-quality educational facilities. Let us do this. Let us get this done.

As we work to improve our wages and continue to focus on economic development, it is critical we invest in a workforce that will be job ready. This is why I plan to increase funding for graduate medical education by $2 million per year; the medical students of today will be the doctors of tomorrow. We must continue to invest in our higher education system. In addition to funding for student enrollment growth, I am recommending funding for two new buildings, a health and science building at the College of Southern Nevada and a new education building at the Nevada State College. When we invest in building these places of learning, we create the educators and medical professionals of tomorrow. I appreciate NSHE's efforts to improve our graduation rates and overall student success. Obtaining that degree or certificate is challenging for many of our students. This is why we will increase funding for Nevada's scholarship programs to open new opportunities for thousands of Nevada's students to earn their degrees and workforce credentials.

But there is another element of higher education that too often does not get the respect it deserves, apprenticeship and job training programs. Success does not always have to start with a four-year degree. Quality job training programs, apprenticeships, business partnerships and community college degrees can help Nevadans of all ages get the skills they need for the jobs that are out there today. This is why I am recommending increased funding for career and technical education to serve an additional 2,000 students.

So far, we have talked about a number of important issues, but there is no issue more important to me than making sure every child in every classroom gets a quality education. And you know what, that starts with having a great educator at the front of the room. These are the people we are entrusting to prepare our kids of the future. They need to be treated as the professionals they are and respected for the job they do. Let us show them our appreciation with a round of applause. While applause is nice, our educators deserve more than that; they deserve a raise. It has been over a decade since the State last directly funded a raise for our K-12 educators. Tonight, that is going to change. Legislators, I am asking you to stand with me and stand with our educators by including them in the 3-percent pay raise for State employees for the first time in 12 years. Right now, too many teachers have been forced to dig into their own pockets to make sure their students have basic supplies like markers, pencils and erasers. It is a beautiful sign of their commitment, but it is also grossly unfair. So I am proposing additional funding to reimburse teachers for supplies they need for their classrooms, raising the total from $100 to $180 per teacher. In our budget, I am also including a one-time appropriation for Washoe County to correct an $8.6 million mistake that was made in the past. But to be perfectly clear, so everyone understands, those kinds of mistakes will not be tolerated under my watch. The time for Band-Aids and short-term fixes are over.

I also look forward to working with Legislative Leadership to review the decades-old Nevada Plan to ensure that tax dollars for education follow the student. We have to make sure our statewide funding formula is equitable for every student in every county. My recommended increase in funding the New Nevada Plan will increase from $36 million to $70 million per year meaning that an additional 28,200 at-risk students will receive the academic support they need, deserve, no matter what school they attend. Additionally, I am recommending for the biennium $44.7 million to ensure access to quality preschool development programs, $63.4 million for Read by Grade 3, approximately $100 million for Nevada's Zoom Schools and $50 million for Victory School programs. Not only do we ask our educators to teach our students, but also we rely on them to keep them safe as well. The need for safer schools is a dark reality in the world in which we live today, and we need to fund these initiatives. I want to thank the Statewide School Safety Task Force for their hard work identifying key proposals to enhance security at our schools, including more police officers and funding for additional social and behavioral health workers. We cannot expect to successfully address violence and issues in our schools unless we invest in people like Arika Marquez, who is here with us tonight. Arika is a counselor at Clayton Middle School in Reno. By doing her job every day, counselors like Arika are preventing violence, helping students and saving lives. Arika, please stand and be recognized for your work.

This is why a portion of the 10-percent marijuana tax will go towards preventing violence in our schools. As Governor, the safety and security of our families is my most important job. Our Country is plagued by the epidemic of gun violence, something Nevadans have come to understand all too well. We are still feeling from the losses we suffered on 1 October. Now, at long last, we are going to take action. I am working with the Legislature to implement commonsense background checks on all firearm sales in Nevada. We will outlaw bump stocks. We will address the threat gun violence poses to victims of domestic violence in the State of Nevada. Those subjected to restraining orders should not be allowed to buy a firearm. Back in 2016, Nevadans voted to close a dangerous and deadly loophole in our law that makes it far too easy for convicted criminals, domestic abusers and others with dangerous histories to buy firearms at gun shows and online with no background checks and no questions asked. It is long past time we listen to the voters and enact these changes, because background checks save lives.

Along with the need for a safe Nevada, is a healthy Nevada. As public servants, we have a responsibility to promote the health and well-being of the Nevadans who sent us here. Let me start by saying as long as I am in office, Nevada will continue supporting and defending the Affordable Care Act, including all protections for those with pre-existing conditions. That is why I am proud that Nevada has signed on to an amicus brief asking the courts to prevent the Trump administration from rolling back the Affordable Care Act's requirement that employers include birth control coverage in their health plans. As Governor, I am committed to adequately funding women's health care. Currently, Nevada ranks last in the Nation in the number of women who have a dedicated health care provider. We do not fare much better when it comes to cervical cancer screenings or other forms of family planning either. That is going to change, and that is why we will be allocating 3 million dollars per year to provide more of these life-saving services statewide. Lives like the life of Reno-native Ann Mackey, who in her early 20s started to have health complications so she scheduled an appointment at Planned Parenthood. During that visit, they found early signs of cervical cancer that had gone undetected. Today, 20 years later, Ann is doing well and credits that Planned Parenthood visit for saving her life. We have to make sure that quality health care continues to be offered to every Nevadan, not just those who can afford it.

Our State took an incredible step when we expanded Medicaid. It gave the chance for hundreds of thousands of Nevadans to go to the doctor and gain the coverage they need. My recommended budget represents the largest investment of general fund dollars to the Department of Health and Human Services in Nevada's State history. Here is how: first, by increasing Medicaid reimbursement rates for Neonatal and Pediatric Intensive Care Units, we can provide for our youngest patients and make sure they have access to quality health care services; second, we will reduce the waitlist for children with autism so they can receive the assistance they need; third, we will increase access to mental health services, upping the hours that our Mobile Crisis Units operate; and finally, too many individuals and families struggle with substance abuse. We can and should do more to make the healthcare system work for everyone. People like Nikki and Kayden Yowell from Winnemucca, who are here tonight. Nikki lost her husband and Kayden lost his father to substance abuse. What Nikki and Kayden have faced is unimaginable, but, sadly, it is all too common. We can no longer allow this epidemic to plague our communities and destroy our families. It is time to fix it. This investment will let Community

Behavioral Health Centers expand from 3 to 10, allowing them to serve additional adults and children with substance abuse issues. But it is not enough to input numbers on paper. I am committed to working with Legislators, the Department of Health and Human Services and community stakeholders to ensure this funding gets down to the Nevadans who need it most. In the coming weeks, I will create a Patient Protections Commission. Our goal will be to take a comprehensive view of health care in Nevada to evaluate what we are doing well and, more importantly, what we can do better including protecting Nevadans from being gouged on prescription drug prices.

Now, let me turn to another important issue. I would like to ask all of our active military and veterans, including Brigadier General William Burkes and retired Lieutenant Colonel Gary Utterback, who led us in the pledge, to please stand and be recognized. Sadly, the plight of our veterans is too often ignored. These are the heroes who risked their lives for our County and our State, yet they do not always receive the support they need when they come home. For example, we have an estimated 5,000 underserved veterans in the Fallon and Pahrump service areas, a number that triples if we consider family members eligible for services. We know that veterans, like others in rural areas, have difficulty accessing health care services. They face poverty, homelessness and substance abuse, but services are available only if they can access them. That is why we are adding additional Veteran services officers to help them access the federal benefits they deserve, more than $114 million in federal funds annually, to improve the quality of care and quality of life for our veterans and their families.

We also need to look out for our fellow Nevadans who need a little help to get by. From our elderly residents, who rely on food from Meals on Wheels, to our foster families, I want you to know that you will not be forgotten and not left out of this budget. This year, we will increase funding for Meals on Wheels by more than $800,000, allowing us to feed over 8,700 seniors and eliminate the current wait list. And then for the over 2,000 foster family homes across our State, we are going to increase funding to help foster parents more efficiently cover the cost of child care.

There is another conversation we need to have, and it is about our criminal justice system. We cannot continue to do the same thing and expect different results. We can be tough on crime and still reduce recidivism. We can lock up violent criminals and work to identify the low-level offenders who are ready to earn their second chance. This is why I am recommending we add new staff who will focus on supporting mental health and substance abuse programs and handling the increased caseload in the Parole and Probation division. This will be coupled with an increased investment in a pilot program aimed at providing education and skills training for inmates, first championed by then-Senator Aaron Ford. In the first year of this program, over 80 percent of the inmates enrolled graduated with either credits going towards a traditional college degree or a pre-apprenticeship experience. I would like to recognize a special guest here with me tonight, Professor Kevin Mitchell of the College of Southern Nevada. Professor Mitchell has years of experience teaching the CSN prison education program and currently teaches at High Desert State Prison, which the First Lady and I recently toured. He has seen his students reintegrate into our community and start productive careers. Professor Kevin Mitchell, please stand. This additional investment will reduce the recidivism rate, save our State tax dollars and make our streets safer.

We are all lucky to live in the most beautiful State in the Country, hands down. But to keep it this way we need to recognize the serious environmental threats facing our State. Let me be clear: I will not spend a single second debating the reality of climate change. It is real, and it is irresponsible to ignore the sciences that prove it and the lives it has already upended, especially across the West. As Governor, I am committed to making Nevada a clean energy leader, not only to combat the effects of climate change for future generations, but also for the abundance of green-collar jobs we can create right now. Nevada used to lead the Nation in producing renewable energy. Sadly, we have fallen behind. Take our Renewable Portfolio Standard, we used to be number one, and now we are not even in the top ten. This is why I strongly support the goal of achieving a minimum of 50 percent in renewable energy by 2030. I know we can meet these standards without raising the cost of electricity for the ratepayers of our State. It is time to make it happen.

In 2017, the Legislature proved they have the political will to reclaim our spot as the Nation's clean energy leader. When you send me that bill, this Governor will sign it. Allowing Nevada to lead when it comes to renewable energy is not just good for job growth or energy rates, it helps preserve and protect Nevada's incredible natural beauty. We have some of the Nation's most amazing public lands in our State. These lands contribute to this State's unique beauty, connect us to our past and is the driving force behind our thriving eco-tourism industry. We must continue to protect these irreplaceable treasures. And speaking of treasures, let me make something perfectly clear: Not one ounce, not one ounce of nuclear waste will ever reach Yucca Mountain while I am Governor, not on my watch. We will work hand in hand with our congressional delegation and use every resource possible to stop the federal government from turning our State into their nuclear waste dump. It is not going to happen.

One thing remains clear across all of these proposals, when you invest in Nevadans, the return can be immense. This is why I am opening a Governor's Office for New Americans which will support our newest neighbors, help them navigate government services, build new businesses and let them know that they are truly welcome here in the State of Nevada. It will also provide assistance to DACA recipients and applicants like a DREAMer I met on the campaign trail named Deisy. Deisy was brought to Nevada as a child. She did not have documentation, but she cared for her community and worked hard. When Governor Sandoval did the right thing and signed a bill in 2015 that allowed DREAMers to obtain a teaching license, she jumped right on it. Today, she is a special education teacher at a public school in Clark County, specializing in children with autism to realize their dream. I know Deisy is watching on TV so let us give her a round of applause. The Governor's Office for New Americans is for people like Deisy who invest in the future of our community every day. We need to make sure each and every voice is heard at the Capitol, in our communities and at the ballot box.

This past November, Nevada made clear they support Automatic Voter Registration, and now it is on us to get it done. So I look forward to making this a reality alongside Secretary of State Barbara Cegavske and the Legislature. Voting is a fundamental right, and we should be looking for even more ways to make sure eligible Nevadans can exercise their right, which is why I am committed to working with the Legislature and local election officials to expand early voting and to implement same-day voter registration. I am committed to making sure every Nevadan is counted in our census because if one of us is left off, that hurts all of us. I am recommending additional funding for in-State efforts to ensure all Nevadans are counted.

The proposals laid out tonight are presented with the goal of ensuring that every family sitting around every dinner table sees the benefit of the economic recovery that only those at the top have already felt.

Those in this room will not agree on everything. For example, some here might cheer for the Wolf Pack and some might cheer for the Rebels, but I think we can all agree that the Golden Knights are the best hockey team in the State of Nevada.

These Chambers were built to house debates worthy of the Nevadans we represent and the futures they have ahead. But in those debates over the paths we take, we must not forget what can happen when civil discourse turns into partisan gamesmanship. It is the people, our citizens who ultimately lose. Look no further than what is happening in Washington D.C. where federal workers, including 3,000 of our Nevada citizens, have become pawns in a political battle. Nevadans deserve better, and we owe it to them and to this great institution to show the rest of the Nation how it is done.

I have a message for every Legislator here in this Chamber tonight, every one of you, whether you are a Republican or a Democrat, we have a busy four months ahead of us. We have a lot of work to do, and we are going to be spending a lot of time with one another.

I want you to know my door is always open. We need good ideas from everyone, every single one of you. This is how we work together. This is how we get things done, and this is how we build an even stronger Nevada. I know when every Nevadan has the opportunity to succeed, the State will reap the benefit.

(Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(e) The inherent powers of each House authorize it to take all necessary and proper institutional actions that are "recognized by the common parliamentary law." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 684)

(f) Thus, it is well established that each House is "vested with all the powers and privileges which are necessary and incidental to a free and unobstructed exercise of its appropriate functions. These powers and privileges are derived not from the Constitution; on the contrary, they arise from the very creation of a legislative body, and are founded upon the principle of self-preservation." (Ex parte McCarthy, 29 Cal. 395, 403 (1866))

2. The Senate and Assembly hereby exercise their constitutional and inherent powers and privileges and adopt the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules to:

(a) Establish ethical standards to regulate the behavior and conduct of persons who participate in the legislative process; and

 (b) Prohibit and sanction ethical breaches.

CONTINUATION OF RULES

Rule No. 40. Continuation of Joint Standing Rules During the Interim Between Regular Sessions.

The Joint Standing Rules set forth herein shall remain in full force and effect throughout the interim between regular sessions of the Legislature and until new Joint Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly are adopted as part of the organization of a newly-constituted Legislature at the commencement of a session, unless a conflict exists with a rule adopted by the Senate and Assembly for a special session occurring between regular sessions.

Senator Atkinson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Senator Atkinson.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 1 makes the following changes to the 2019 Joint Standing Rules: Rule No. 12 is revised to reflect the current practice of depositing the Standing Committee records with the Research Library instead of the Director of the Legal Counsel Bureau; Rule Nos. 13, 13.1, 13.2 and 13.3 have been removed from the rules; Rule 14.2 is revised to require Bill Draft Requests (BDRs) designated for pre-filing to be introduced on or before the 15th day instead of the 8th calendar day; Rule 14.5 is revised so that a request for a waiver from certain BDR-related deadlines by a Committee no longer requires approval of a majority of the Committee before it is submitted to the Majority Leader and Speaker; Rule 17 is revised to reflect the accurate date, as indicated on the 120-day calendar, that the money committees must start resolving budget differences; Rule 20 is revised to clarify that the Anti-Harassment Policy does not create a private right of action; Rule 20.5 is revised to require the Legislative Counsel be informed upon receipt of a complaint filed by or relating to a lobbyist alleging harassment unless the Legislative Counsel is the subject of the complaint and to clarify that the Anti-Harassment Policy does not create a private right of action; Rule 30 is revised to move the statement indicating that the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards is effective during the Interim, as well as the Session; Rule 40, which provides for the continuation of all the Senate Standing Rules during the Interim between Sessions. The rule is also revised to add a new subsection 4 to provide that the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards does not create a private right of action or enforceable legal rights in any person; Rule 32 is revised to make a "clean-up change" to change a reference from "sections" to "rules;" Rule 37 is revised to change "agree" to "agree to engage" to more accurately describe the prohibited conduct, and Rule 40 is added to specifically provide that the Joint Standing Rules remain in full force and effect throughout the Interim until new rules are adopted for the next Session, unless a conflict exists with a rule adopted for a Special Session.
