NRS 33.020(8) allows an individual to submit a TPO application 24/7 via phone where an individual has been arrested for domestic battery and is currently in custody. This bill proposes to extend the time law enforcement is required to effectuate an arrest following an allegation of domestic battery. This will likely result in an increased number of individuals arrested for domestic battery and a similar increase in the number of TPO applications submitted telephonically pursuant to NRS 33.020(8). A TPO application submitted telephonically costs the Second Judicial District Court approximately $80 in staff costs per application.
