State Agency: Department of Indigent Defense Services

Approved by: Marcie Ryba , Director

Comment: Expected Travel for Commission reimbursement will be $400 on average per board member. We have 13 board members, so each board meeting we can expect $5200 in reimbursement requests for our board members to attend each meeting. This cost may vary dependent upon where the meetings take place, but since we oversee indigent defense across the state, our meetings could occur in any county. To comply with the 25% attendance of an in person meeting, likely all of our meetings would need to have an in-person option. On average, we have 6 meetings per year: the cost could be up to $31,200 for commission travel.

For employee travel, if these meetings are in a rural county, the Department will be expected to travel. An in-person meeting in Tonopah cost $177 per person -- there are up to 4 employees that may need to travel. For 6 meetings, this would cost: $4,248.

A hybrid meeting would also increase costs to set up required equipment and software. The increased Zoom access adds an additional $140 to our Zoom package for a total of: $1940 per year.

Also, with the ADA, our Department would need to make reasonable accommodations for our meetings. This expense is unknown.
