Explanation

(Use Additional Sheets of Attachments, if required)

This legislation may have an impact on the number of traffic citations issued, which in turn may result in reduced Administrative Assessment collections. Unfortunately, the Appellate Courts do not have data on the number of the specific offenses that would be affected as a result of this bill. As such, it is not feasible to determine what the potential reduction to Administrative Assessment revenue received by the Supreme Court, or its programs, might be. This may also have a negative impact on local courts which also receive a portion of Administrative Assessment revenues.
